TEXAS OIL WORKERS' STRIKE GOES INTO EFFECT

Sixteen Production Fields in Texas and Louisiana Tied Up

Approximately 8,000 Workers in Gulf Coast Oil Fields Leave Work at Midnight—Labor Troubles Elsewhere.

BULLETIN.
HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 1.—Strike of the oil workers in the gulf coast district of Texas went into effect at midnight. It is said between 7,500 and 8,000 men are affected.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 31.—Nine thousand workers in the gulf coast oil fields will strike beginning at midnight tonight. John J. Barrett, federal conciliator, says he has little hope of preventing the walkout because of the refusal of the operators to consider negotiations with the union men.

An eight hour day and wage increases are the demands of the workers. Sixteen production fields in Texas and Louisiana are affected. Ship Constructors Tied Up.—Important ship construction work at the Fore River Plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company was crippled today by a strike of 1,000 machinists to enforce higher pay.

Operators Vote to Strike.
Seattle, Wn., Oct. 31.—Before orders had been received from San Francisco, deferring strike action the electrical workers and telephone operators of Seattle voted early tonight to strike immediately. No statement was obtainable from leaders as to whether efforts would be made tonight to recall the strike order in compliance with the decision made at San Francisco.

Strike Is Deferred.
San Francisco, Oct. 31.—The threatened strike of electrical workers and exchange operators of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company has been deferred until such time as Vernon Z. Reed, federal labor mediator, or the local mediation commission named by President Wilson may thoroughly investigate the points at issue and render a decision according to an official statement issued tonight by Mr. Reed.

Formulating Plans.
Chicago, Oct. 31.—Plans for a demand for an increase of wages of 200,000 men will be formulated at a meeting of the delegates from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the order of Railroad Conductors which will begin here tomorrow and probably last ten days. Members of the organizations it is said have voted to demand an increase in wages ranging from 20 to 30 per cent. The organizations are composed of conductors, brakemen, flagmen, baggage men, switchmen and yardmen, excepting those in the Chicago switching district.

Copper Miners Strike Settled.
Clifton, Ariz., Oct. 31.—Settlement of the strike of 7,000 copper miners in the Clifton-Morenci-Metacalf district, which has been in progress since July 1, was announced tonight by Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, chairman of the federal industrial commission investigating labor conditions in the Arizona camps.

Are Called to Washington.
Washington, Oct. 31.—Operators and miners of the southwest who have failed to reach an acceptable agreement as to a penalty clause in the new wage scale were called to Washington today by the fuel administration for a conference Friday. Unless a penalty clause satisfactory to Dr. Garfield is adopted coal price increases will be withheld in the southwest.

"Other union districts in the different parts of the country," said Dr. Garfield today, "are submitting their penalty clauses to the fuel administrator for approval. There is no indication of any disturbance in the labor conditions in the application of the wage advance where penalty provisions are agreed to."

"Illinois, Indiana and Ohio where considerable unrest existed have been straightened out and the miners are giving full service in the mines."

A plan to apply penalty provisions to non-union mining districts to prevent strikes and lockouts was announced today by the fuel administration after conferences with leading producers. President Wilson's order of Monday raising coal prices 45 cents a ton throughout the country carried a provision denying the increase to districts failing to adopt the penalty system.

Producers in non-union districts pointed out that they had no authority to enforce penalties against unorganized miners.

Immediate relief from the coal shortage in the east was promised today by the fuel administration which will issue an order tomorrow modifying the arrangement under which shipments to the northwest have been given preference over all other movements.

WILSON WELCOMES BRAZIL INTO WAR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Upon Brazil's declaration of war against Germany President Wilson sent this message to President Braz:

War News Summarized

Virtually one thousand square miles of Italian territory have been overrun, more than 120,000 Italians have been made prisoner and in excess of 1,000 guns have been captured by the German and Austro-Hungarian armies. In their eighth day of drive from the Isonzo and Carnic Alps fronts of the Austro-Italian war zone. From the east the enemy invasion on the center of the battle front now is well within gun range of the Tagliamento river, where it has been presumed that General Cadorna would make a stand.

The Italian commander-in-chief, however, is continuing his retreat with the rear guards harassing the advance. Where Cadorna purposes to give battle has not become apparent. Neither is it known how well the northern and southern ranks of his army are keeping pace with the retirement in the center.

According to the latest Berlin official communication announcing heavy losses to the Italians in men and guns, engagements successful for the enemy have taken place on the Tagliamento plain. The Rome communication announces fighting on the hills of St. Daniele del Friuli, along the Ledra Canal at Passian Chiuvesco and Pozzuolo del Friuli northwest of Udine and from 4 to 5 miles east of the Tagliamento.

Meanwhile preparations to aid the Italians in their hour of extremity are being rushed by all the allies. Jules Cambon, general secretary of the French ministry of foreign affairs in a statement has expressed the conviction that the Italians will be able to stem the tide of the invasion with the aid of French and British troops sent to reinforce them. The American government is to waive all export restrictions in favor of Italy permitting that country to take whatever materials she requires, regardless of prospective shortages here.

A large amount of shipping also is to be given Italy in work in conjunction with her own merchant marine in taking supplies overseas. The new Italian premier in a message to General Cadorna has assured the commander-in-chief that all classes of the populace of Italy are with him in his hour of trial and will stand by him and the army until victory rests with them. A similar message was sent to the British prime minister.

On the other battle fronts no big operations have taken place. The Germans Wednesday made no attempt to force out the Canadians from their positions captured the previous day in the region of Passchendaele. Along the Chemin des Dames and in the Verdun sector intensive bombardments continue.

Still another mutiny among the Germans is reported. This time it was among the Flemish in Belgium who are declared to have refused to go to the front and even to have fired on their officers, several of whom were wounded.

WARMER WEATHER EXPECTED TODAY
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The cold wave in the eastern part of the country reached its crest this morning with temperatures equal to or lower than the previous October cold weather record. It will continue cold tonight but there will be a rise in temperature Thursday east of the Mississippi river, weather bureau officials said today.

The cold wave has reached the Atlantic coast district today, extending as far south as Florida. Frost was forecast as probable tonight in the south and east gulf states.

AMERICAN IN HOT BATTLES IN AIRPLANE

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Nine flights in the course of a two hour's patrol flight is the record believed by Sergeant David McKay Peterson of the Lafayette Flying Squadron. The German machine probably was destroyed.

Lieutenant Raoul Luthery has just been cited in orders to the fighting group to which the Lafayette Squadron belongs, for his fine work on October 26 when he drove down two German machines.

CONGRESS MEMBERS ARRIVE IN PARIS

GERMANS "SNEAK IN THRU THE BACK DOOR"

Attack Italians at Place Where Little Fighting Had Occurred

Had Enemy Chosen any of Fighting Fronts Near Bainsizza Plateau or Gorizia They Would Have Faced Well Organized Forces.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Oct. 31.—(By The Associated Press.)—Everything for the moment has had to yield to military necessities, and this will explain the lack of details, which can now be given briefly, concerning one of the most momentous phases of the war.

The supreme command has no desire to keep the facts from the American, British or foreign public but in such a supreme moment its first consideration is not to publish details which can afford the enemy the slightest clue either to what has occurred or what is in store.

One of the commanding officers informed the correspondent that the public should be placed on guard against reports which doubtless would spread from scattered information. The fact is those who have actually witnessed the recent stupendous drama are extremely few outside the military authorities and all these eye witnesses like the correspondent are gladly respecting the decision which the supreme command feels the situation requires. Within the narrow limitations a few salient facts can be given.

General Cadorna's bulletin has struck the keynote of the main operation in stating:

"The violence of their attack and inadequate resistance broke our left wing on the Julian front."

This was issued Sunday and sums up officially the sequel to the tremendous concentration of Austro-German forces detailed in earlier despatches just before the critical juncture was reached and all telegraphing was stopped. The magnitude of the surprise offensive was heightened by the choice of a place where comparatively no fighting had occurred. Had the enemy chosen any of the fighting fronts near Gorizia or the Bainsizza plateau they would have faced splendidly organized forces. But in "sneaking in thru the back door," as an officer described the operation, they were like a "thief who takes a family unawares and is able for a time to terrorize those taken in an unsuspecting moment."

As previously called late Friday night the crossing of the Isonzo near Tolmin was carried out. The enemy forces then found themselves facing a range of low mountains, with the Italian army master of the passes leading to the eastern region of Venetia. At the same time the Austro-Germans made feints along the whole southern front so as to prevent the Italians from moving reinforcements to the extreme north. There their bombardment of Gorizia and all along the Carso to Mal Monfalcon was terrific but was not followed by infantry advances and was clearly awaiting the development of von Mackensen's turning movement on the north.

General Cadorna's bulletin must be accepted for the moment as all that can be stated of all that occurred in Italian left wing.

The correspondent having witnessed the retirement and having been an unwilling participant in the three days, can testify to the fortitude of the main body of the Italians and also to splendid organization which the supreme command sought to put in force in withdrawing enormous forces of men and material.

BERLIN, Oct. 31, via London.—The number of Italians made prisoner by the Austro-German armies has increased to over 120,000, says the official communication issued this evening. The communication adds that more than 1,000 guns also have been taken. The communication says that in Flanders and on the Chemin des Dames the artillery activity has been of a varied nature and in the east there is nothing of especial importance to report.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Reuter's correspondent at Italian headquarters sends the following:

"Perfect order prevails among the Italian troops on their new line of defense. They are eager again to offer combat to the enemy and are confident of their ability to turn the tables upon the Austro-Germans."

"All the British troops on the Italian front were able to withdraw from the Italian main body, a majority of them in safety."

"Only six of seventy British Red Cross ambulances were taken by the enemy, but eight were abandoned in a disabled condition."

"Two units and also twelve nurses of the second and third units as well as twelve nurses of the first unit have not yet reached the concentration posts but it is believed they have been delayed owing to the difficulty of transit."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF MICHAELIS RESIGNATION

Bavarian Premier Has Been Offered German Chancellorship

Statement From Berlin Gives Confirmation to Previous Press Reports from Amsterdam.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—British Admiralty, per wireless press—Official announcement is made that Chancellor Michaelis has resigned and that Count von Hertling, the Bavarian premier has been offered the chancellorship.

The announcement says Count Hertling is now negotiating with the leaders of the reichstag parties.

The foregoing gives official confirmation to yesterday's press reports from Amsterdam and Copenhagen of these changes.

Munich, Bavaria.—The views of Count von Hertling, the Bavarian premier regarding some of Germany's peace aims were outlined by the premier in a speech delivered recently before the main committee of the Bavarian chamber of deputies. Regarding Bavaria's separate reply to Pope Benedict's peace note he denied it meant Bavaria was pursuing an independent policy declaring that the contrary was the case, the separate reply being sent to indicate Bavaria's full support of the policy of the German empire.

"In Belgium we purpose to proceed with moderation and in full consideration of the wishes of the Belgian people," said Count von Hertling in discussing peace conditions. "The surrender of Alsace-Lorraine," he continued, "is under no circumstances to be thought of and the majority of the population of the two provinces would not welcome such action. A decision in the matter of the form of government to be given Alsace-Lorraine cannot be arrived at in a hurry. An autonomous federated state cannot be created in a moment, like a shot fired from a gun."

Count von Hertling closed his speech with a promise of certain internal reforms for Bavaria.

"I am planning," he said, "for a more intimate co-operation between the government and the chamber of deputies and I am prepared to receive suggestions to this end."

"If civil authority is divine," declared Bishop Tuttle, "then you will have to grant the sacredness of the flag. With the divine authority in the flag orders war a nation may go to war."

Bishop Tuttle said the state, with the family and the church, was a divine institution. He declared the theory, however, that the individual exists for the state, and declared that this position, held by the Kaiser leads to an encroachment by the state upon the moral realm of the church.

PRESIDENT URGED TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Defense Society Wants War Declared On Austria

Resolution Adopted Urges Transportation to Italy of Contingent of American Troops and War Material, Using All Ships Possible.

New York, Oct. 31.—President Wilson was urged to call a special session of congress to declare war on Austria in a resolution adopted by the board of trustees of the American Defense Society, at a special meeting here today.

The resolution urges transportation to Italy of a contingent of American troops and war material, using all ships possible, included seized Austrian ships. It sets forth that "the complete defeat of Italy's armies will endanger her national existence and imperil the issues of the war for democracy," and that "to preserve Italy's existence and to maintain her immediate moral, military and economic aid from her allies is imperative."

The resolution declares German agents thruout Italy have steadily emphasized the fact that the United States has never yet seen fit to declare war against Austro-Hungary, Italy's great and neighboring enemy and "that it is patent to the entire world that Germany and Austrian troops are working as a unit for the same end which America has declared she will not endure."

A copy of the resolutions was telegraphed to President Wilson. Prior to its adoption the trustees of the society adopted a minute which declares that an inconclusive peace would be an insult to those who have fallen in the war and a betrayal to the living.

The sending of an overwhelming force to France, because, it says, "the more men we send, the fewer will be the close of business tonight there will be only six thousand or so licensed bars. In about 600 saloons the shutters will come down for good."

Under the Harkins law passed several years ago Illinois cities are allowed one saloon to every five hundred persons. There were about 7,000 in Chicago at the time and the courts ruled that those existing could not be eliminated. The decisions provided, however, that as licenses lapsed they could not be renewed until the 500 to 1 ratio had been reached. The existing law restrictions have injured the business and today the last of the licensing period, more than 600 saloon keepers had failed to apply for renewals. This puts them definitely out of business. Prohibition leaders predicted that by May 10 there would be 5,000 saloons, which on the basis of a population of 2,500,000 would bring the ratio to legal requirements.

SHUTTERS OF 600 CHICAGO SALOONS COME DOWN

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The privileges of Chicago's drinking classes are being gradually curtailed. With the close of business tonight there will be only six thousand or so licensed bars. In about 600 saloons the shutters will come down for good.

There were about 7,000 in Chicago at the time and the courts ruled that those existing could not be eliminated. The decisions provided, however, that as licenses lapsed they could not be renewed until the 500 to 1 ratio had been reached. It is estimated that at various times the equivalent of 8 full divisions of the French and British armies have been incapacitated because of disease usually contracted under the influence of liquor.

"Circumstances alter cases." In 1913-14 there was a falling off in building activity, which indicated depression. Building permits in New York City in September, 1917, show a falling off of 28 per cent as compared with 1916, which indicates that people are centering all efforts on the war and postponing unnecessary building operations until labor shall be more plentiful and materials cheaper.

MUSTARD GAS THE LATEST.

Quickly following the announcement that the U. S. government has designed a gas mask of rubber and cloth which will effectively protect our soldiers comes the story that German chemists have concocted mustard gas. The new invention of these Germans who know no limit to the methods they will employ, it is said will affect any part of the body with which it comes in contact, raising great blisters which later bring infection. So the gas mask is not sufficient protection. Fortunately the United States has scientifically trained men who are fully able to cope with this new menace and they will not be long in devising an adequate means of protection from mustard gas or any other chemical combination the Germans "let loose."

SELECTING THE BEST SEED.

In these days when committees and commissions are multiplying there may be some whose usefulness can be questioned. This, however, does not apply to the seed committees that the government is appointing to various states. In Iowa, W. H. Stevenson, formerly of this city, is one of the committee appointed. The men named will gather data concerning seed surplus and shortages and arrange to distribute the surplus in the territory where seed is scarce. In addition the committee will take some notice as to the quality of seed and their work will no doubt be very largely beneficial in increasing crop returns.

In recent years farmers generally have more than ever come to recognize the necessity of greater care about seed and by selecting seed of certain germinating qualities greatly increase crop yields. The need for work along this line will be especially emphasized the coming season in the matter of seed corn, for a local authority said that early frosts had damaged so much corn from a seed standpoint that it is really going to be a difficult matter to secure good seed for the spring of 1918.

A STRONG CANDIDATE.

F. J. Scholfield, who is the Republican nominee for county commissioner, has a record as a business man and citizen which entitles him to the consideration of the voters. Mr. Scholfield has spent all of his life in Morgan county, the greater part of that time engaged in farming. He has found time, however, for various public enterprises and is thoroughly conversant with Morgan county affairs. In the matter of road improvement and in the general business of the county his judgment will be well worth while. If chosen to board membership at the election next Tuesday, Mr. Scholfield can be relied upon to give to the duties of the office earnest and honest attention.

TO CHASE SUBMARINES WITH GLASS BOTTOM BOATS.

The plaything of tourists is to be made into a deadly war machine. Glass bottom boats, which take thousands of California visitors yearly over the waters of Monterey Bay and Avalon so they can see the marine gardens beneath, are to be used to chase the U-boats from the seas.

This is the information brought from Washington by Colonel John S. Irby, new surveyor of customs of the port of San Francisco, who made the disclosure in a recent talk before the Advertising Club of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Colonel Irby said:

"To a Californian, who must be nameless, belongs the credit of devising a glass bottom boat which, it is believed, will be effective against the German submarine. This man has so improved on this type of boat that a diver can not only be seen at great depth directly underneath, but also at a distance on each side and in front and behind."

WOMEN BETTER LABOR CONDITIONS.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Honorary President of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, when informed of the improvement in working conditions at the plants of the Statnord Aero Corporation ascribed by the management to employment of women in their various departments, made the following comment:

"One of the big examples of that business honesty which is always the best policy is the square deal for women workers. This means that women shall be engaged by their employers just as men are engaged—because of the work they can do, and not because of or in spite of their sex. It means also that they shall be paid for their work at the same scale men are paid, and that there shall be no such thing as the substitution of woman labor because it may be cheaper.

"This is simple justice—and it pays. Progressive-minded business men all tell us so. They have found that women can do some kinds of work better than men can do it, and more per day than the men do. This increases the employer's profits and adds to the reputation of their plants.

"Eastern manufacturers are discovering also about women in business what the western men discovered about women in politics. Going to the voting places did not demoralize women. It improved the conditions at the voting places. Business men who have employed women upon work hitherto done by men only report that the presence of the women in the workrooms and factories not only increases the output and stiffens up the efficiency of the men with whom they are associated, but it necessitates improved working conditions and better atmosphere in the shops, to the benefit of men as well as women, of employers as well as employees. The antagonism which has heretofore existed between men and women workers is due to two innate sex oppositions, but lack of opportunity to know and understand the needs and purposes of women workers. Face to face knowledge of each other arouses sympathy, courtesy and co-operation between men and women workers everywhere."

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

The farmer gets more advice than Advice to Burn.

any man beneath the sun; the magazines would treat him nice, so tell him once, and tell him twice, how all his duties should be done. And lecturers with bulging grows in country weekly schools lay down the law; tell him how to groom his cows, and how to raise blue ribbon sows by feeding artichokes and straw. The editors of weekly sheets, who never pushed a span of mules, sit in their chairs with leather seats, and tell him how to raise his bees, and for his guidance lay down rules. The men pursuing other trades, we all assume, know what to do; no man the merchant prince upbraids, or chides the lawyer till he fades, or to the plumber hand a few. The sexton, he can dig a grave, we do not stop to tell him how, or show the barber how to shave, or tell the dairyman how to save; the dairyman can milk his cow. But every man in town believes no husbandman knows how to farm; and so we criticize his sheaves, and tell him how to shear his beebes, and treat the old mare for the heaves, and bore him till he has the peevie, and to his shouldlers rolls his sleeves, and tries to do us deadly harm.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS
WORK IN CORN FIELD

Wards of State are Doing Their Part to Lessen Labor Shortage—Gather Corn on Zachary Farm—Consolidated Work for Institutions.

A new factor in the local labor situation bids fair to be of great benefit to the farmers of Morgan county. This will apply especially to those farmers who happen to live in territory contiguous to the Jacksonville State hospital, arranged for a number of patients from the hospital to begin corn shucking on the farm of Mitchell Zachary. Twenty five men from the hospital are engaged in this work and the state is receiving six cents a bushel for their services. The payment to the state will be made in corn, as it is necessary for the hospital to buy a considerable amount of this grain each year. Other patients are available for work of this class, and because it is so difficult for farmers to secure labor it is probable that men from the hospital will soon be busy in a number of cornfields.

Work at School for Blind.
Some of the men are experienced in corn cutting as well as shucking and so their work need not be confined to one particular line. If it were possible to rent two or three of the coming year the board of public welfare would no doubt approve a plan for renting this tract and having the same farmed by patients from the hospital. Since the first of October men from the state hospital have been doing the outside work at the school for the Blind and also some repair work. This has included a large amount of painting.

At the date mentioned the cows of the school for the Blind dairy herd were moved to Jacksonville State hospital where they are cared for by patients. Each day the amount of milk required for the School for the Blind is transported to the school by truck from the hospital.

According to a statement made last night by Supt. Woolston, the arrangement is working out very satisfactorily, and a considerable sum of money is thus being saved for the state.

The plan of using labor from the state hospital at the other two state institutions here was developed two months ago at a conference held by the officials of the department of public welfare and the superintendents of the three institutions. At this time it was planned to have outside work at both the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind done in this way and early in November thru arrangements completed by Dr. Hill and Supt. Gillett the plan will be tried out at the School for the Deaf. For the present this will not affect the dairy herd at the School for the Deaf, but practically all of the farm labor and the work on the grounds of the School for the Deaf will be done by the hospital patients. The institutions are located quite a distance apart but as both the hospital and the School for the Blind own motor trucks little time will be lost in transporting the men from one institution to the other.

Will Save Expense.

The department of public welfare also believes that the operation of this consolidation plan will save a considerable sum of money for the state and will also be of benefit to the patients from the hospital, who will thus be afforded outdoor work. If the plan succeeds to the extent the board hopes, eventually both the School for the Blind and the School for the Deaf will be devoted exclusively to educational work and the farm, garden and dairy departments at these schools will be conducted in connection with the state hospital. Thus far the working of the plan is considered as something of an experiment and the indications are that it will work out in a successful way.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION HAS COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

District Representative Here Wednesday for Conference With M. F. Dunlap—Organized Force Will Represent Every Section of Land in County.

Alfred S. Adams, district food administrator, was in Jacksonville yesterday for a conference with M. F. Dunlap, county food administrator. The Morgan county is in the 9th district along with Scott, Greene, Pike, Jersey and Calhoun counties. The 8th district includes Adams, Hancock, Schuyler, Cass and Brown counties and both the 8th and 9th district are under the jurisdiction of Mr. Adams. The work of the Morgan county committee will be to assist in carrying out the program of the U. S. food administration in both conservation and production and the various provisions of the food bill for the benefit of the consumer. Mr. Dunlap as county food administrator will be at the head of an organization which will be appointed by the state administration and will include not only a representative from each voting precinct in the county but also a representative for each section of land.

A Vast Organization
Thru this very comprehensive organization it will be possible for the government to get accurate information as to crop conditions, crop production and any other desired facts. It will also be possible thru this organization to convey to the farming communities in a very direct way any orders that the U. S. food administration wishes carried into effect. When it is remembered that the plan of organization in this county is a duplicate of every other county in the country it is easy to understand what a mammoth and marvelous organization the U. S. food administration represents. It is probable that such a complete organization of forces for information and for carrying out the provisions of a national law was never before marshaled.

As women of the county, acting under instruction from the state council of defense, have already organized for food conservation work in this county, that work will proceed as outlined and the women's committee will thus co-operate with the Morgan county federal organization, of which Mr. Dunlap is the head. Mr. Adams while here was in conference with Mr. Dunlap, the woman's conservation committee and with several representatives of county precincts. He went from this city to Winchester and his itinerary will take him thence to Greene, Jersey, Pike and Calhoun counties. Saturday he will meet Harry S. Wheeler, state food administrator, in Quincy for a conference.

Season tickets for Royal Hungarian Orchestra, Chicago Musical Club, The Stratford Operatic Co. and The Castle Square Entertainers can be obtained at Tom Duffner's store. Season Tickets, $1.00.

Track Welding Machine Shipped October 9 Received Here Wednesday—Stereuous Efforts Necessary to Locate Welder.

The electric welder for which Supt. Gray of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., has been conducting more than state wide search, reached Jacksonville yesterday. This electric welder was shipped from Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 9, and under normal conditions should have been received here three or four days later. When Mr. Gray placed the order for the welder it was only after specific promise from the salesman for the manufacturing company, given with the approval of the sales manager, that the machine could be shipped at once. The company's part of the agreement was fulfilled and the welder was shipped on the date mentioned.

Big Wire Service Bill.
Mr. Gray in his effort to locate the missing machine used the best men in the employ of the Illinois Traction Co., and piled up a big bill for telephone and telegraph service. The delay in receiving the welder has interfered with the paving work on West State street and incidentally this delay has been expensive for the Street Railway company.

R. H. Crompton, a special representative of the factory, is here to operate the welder and it was put into use on the West State street track Wednesday afternoon. Two men are in training in the use of the machine with the hope that welding can be done both night and day. One man with a welder can complete about 480 feet of track in a day's time. Consequently it will now be only a question of two or three days' until the paving work between the rails on West State street can be begun. Contractor Bretz has given Supt. Gray assurance that he will have a force of men on the job right away.

Will Do All Track Work.
As soon as the West State street welding has been completed the machinery will be used on South Main and East State street, so there will be no further delay in the railway's part of the paving work. The plan for welding the rails was adopted because this will put the track in the very best possible condition. Electric welding is termed the "last word" in track construction and when the work has been finally completed the public will understand that it was well worth the delay. Naturally Supt. Gray was greatly relieved when the welder finally was received, for while he was using every possible effort to locate it he felt some embarrassment because the failure to receive the welder was delaying the paving work and thus inconveniencing the public.

REPORT EXPLOSION OF BOMBS IN B. & O. FIRE

H. P. Munro of the Bureau of Mines Investigating—Railroad's Loss is Covered by Insurance.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 31.—H. P. Munro of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, came here today to investigate reports that bombs figured in the explosions at the $5,000,000 fire which visited the Baltimore & Ohio railroad terminals here last night. Two suspects arrested today were grilled in the office of the department of justice. Their names will not be made public at present.

The Baltimore & Ohio's loss was estimated tonight by Vice-President Thompson at $4,000,000 covered by insurance.

Reconstruction will begin at once, he said.

The damage to the steamer and its cargo is estimated at $500,000 while $500,000 loss is thought to have been sustained by the Furness, Withy Steamship company, which used the piers for its terminals. Among the goods destroyed were 7,000 cases of imported liquor, 150 car loads of flour, fifty cases of tobacco and $9,000 bales of wood pulp. One of the men arrested today is a saloon keeper of the section where the fire occurred. It was alleged two stevedores heard him say: "We are going to get the elevators next."

When arrested he declared he was a Russian Pole but it later developed

he is a native of Germany, naturalized. The other suspect was reported to have been in the vicinity of the piers yesterday in a motor boat. All men have been accounted for except Michael J. Hand, a tally clerk on the piers and Eustace Bromley, chief naval gunner on a British steamer which caught fire and was badly damaged.

Several stevedores also were accounted for but are believed to have been saved when they leaped from the ship to the water.

DIPLOMATIC INCIDENT
MADE PUBLIC

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A diplomatic incident at the time of the Spanish-American war involving a threat to use the British fleet against any naval power seeking to hamper the war operations of the United States, was revealed by Sir George Houston Reid, former prime minister of Australia, in an address here today at a luncheon given in his honor by the merchants' association.

"It is not well known that there was a project of sending a naval demonstration from Europe during your last war," Sir George said. "Lord Salisbury was approached—I got this from private, indisputable authority—and he said, 'I will have none of it.' He was asked: 'Suppose Europe sends one. What about it?' He replied, 'I will tell you what about it. If you begin that sort of game, you will find the British fleet facing you.'"

PLAN TO HOUSE
GOVERNMENT WORKMEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Plans for providing adequate facilities to house thousands of workmen employed on government war contracts in congested labor centers were presented to President Wilson today by a special committee of the Council of National Defense headed by President Goheen of the American Federation of Labor. The committee's recommendations, which follow a survey and investigation of the housing problem in many cities will not be made public pending approval of the report by President Wilson.

The committee discussed the proposed plans at length with Mr. Wilson who has taken a lively personal interest in the movement for bettering housing conditions of government workers. The report has the approval of the advisory committee of the national council of defense. It is said to recommend direct expenditures by the government with emergency appropriations to give quick relief to several badly congested sections.

It is understood that it is proposed to give particular attention to several of the shipbuilding towns, where the enormous increase in workers has made the housing problem most acute.

FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make it Thick, Wavy and Beautiful — Try This!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

WILL ADDRESS STATE SUFFRAGE CONVENTION

Mrs. Lillian I. Danskin Will Address State Convention at Danville—Subject will be "Woman's Part in the Referendum"—Convention is One of Importance.

Mrs. Lillian I. Danskin left last night for Danville to attend the annual state Woman's Suffrage convention which convenes today for a two days session.

Friday morning Mrs. Danskin will deliver an address before the convention on "Woman's Part in the Referendum." Mrs. Danskin has given the subject much study and no doubt will have much of value to offer delegates to the convention.

This convention will be one of the most important in the history of suffrage in Illinois. First, because of the great strides the suffrage movement has made through the country in the past few years. Second because of the proposed vote in Illinois on the constitutional convention. It is probable that the delegates to the Danville convention will take steps looking toward an active campaign in behalf of the movement.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Stephen A. Douglas

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

As the writer said, in another connection, speaking of the Fall of 1833, "one day a young man too short and too slim to attract general attention, dropped off the stage at Jacksonville." He was too young and small to secure attention except from the most observing, and yet he proved to be one of the greatest men the United States has known.

He was not a native of this town or even of Illinois, but here he was discovered and applauded by the people of Morgan, and here he made his home until the beginning of his call to a far wider field took him away from our fathers and mothers and our grandparents. This community first recognized and supported his ability by more than shouts of applause, although they were given in mild, simple, pioneering manner, and here he rode easily on men's shoulders, as he had already ridden into their very hearts. Thus it came about that Morgan gave him to Illinois, and sent him to the legislature, and Illinois gave him to the nation and sent him to Congress; and he gave to Illinois and to the Union a devotion and support that must ring down the ages, as long as the names of Lincoln, and Grant and Yates, and their saving the Republic is recalled by the children of men. For this slim, short youth was their helper, their compeer, the whilom opponent of Lincoln in times of peace, and his strongest political supporter when there could be but two parties in the land "Patriots, or Traitors."

This young man was Stephen A. Douglas.

When he came to Illinois Scott county had not been taken off from Morgan so, while he found a friend in Mr. Miner, of Winchester, where his first public employment, serving at a vendue, and teaching was given him, it was still given by Morgan county.

But before this, he had formed a life time preceptor here in Jacksonville, in one of the few of our earliest and brightest citizens, Murray McConnell, the great lawyer and politician; and when time was ripe for the appearance of Douglas before the people as a political leader, it was for Robert Goudy, publisher of the first Democratic newspaper in Jacksonville, to recognize the coming genius, and to urge his preparation for the speech which made "the Little Giant" from the day it was uttered in the old Market House hall, here, in the spring of 1834.

But it was not of these preliminaries that this paper was primarily intended to speak.

Before treating the real matter of this sketch, another reference to our city's earliest history is to be made. In the paper given to the Miss. Valley Historical Association, several years since, the writer, under "The place of Jacksonville in the history of the North-West," made considerable mention of Mr. Douglas; but not enough, for volumes can be written, and should be, on this statesman to whom in the excitement of active politics we gave derision as partisans. Thus, now, giving the more force to these lines. Then many of us thought him a little great man, now we see him, and give him due great credit as being a great little man.

"Forty centuries" did not look down upon him seeking to enslave new lands. But forty centuries may look back to him as helping to free his own fair land.

It is of

Two Achievements
of Judge Douglas, now little known of or appreciated by the rising generation, that the writer would make mention. The name of early Jacksonville no doubt brought him here, and the inspiration of old Jacksonville sent him forth from here, to be an unforgettable citizen of Morgan, of Illinois and of the United States. And little Vermont should here be credited for giving birth to this great man.

The First of these great acts—among many others—was the part taken in projecting the terminal of the Union Pacific railway.

The transcontinental system had probably had its first practical inception in the great and fertile mind of Thomas H. Benton, of Missouri, whose son-in-law, Fremont, "the path-finder" had explored the coming proper line of the trans-continental highway.

At that time

was the largest city, entrepot and metropolis of the Far West, and Benton, standing in the U. S. Senate, ambitious for his own great city and state, pointed to the West and exclaimed with far seeing wisdom, "There, there is 'Junk'!" Thereby answering the questions of Columbus and those back of him as to the way to the great Orient.

But, as the people of Jacksonville were ignorant of the great man come to us, that day in 1833, so the great Benton was ignorant of the great man we were to send forth, and of the

that was to arise at the head of Lake Michigan, to belittle the home of the Missouri Senator on the banks of the Mississippi river.

Douglas was the coming man, and Chicago, in Illinois, was the coming world city. And, in the House of Representatives and in the Senate of the United States, Douglas stood forth, and wrestled from "Old Bullion" the practical terminal of the Pacific railway, building up the North-West, and giving that terminal to the North, wrestled from the powerful national control of the slave advancing South. Thus intricately are politics and business properly interwoven.

As usual, lack of space, forbids the elaboration of this, one of the many farsighted acts of the Senator whom Jacksonville had forwarded on his way to power.

The Second Great Act
of Senator Douglas in his progressive development of himself and of the things in which he was interested was in connection with the Illinois Central railroad. In this Douglas was ultimately turning a part of the "course of Empire," from West to South, and preparing a highway for Latin America to the older and greater Republic of the North.

Today, as may be known, to the readers of the Journal, the Illinois Central railroad binds Minnesota and Illinois and Alabama and Louisiana in its connecting lines, and reaches from Chicago into South Dakota and to Jacksonville, our Floridian namesake.

This, Douglas helped to begin, and, in re-payment to Illinois of what she did for him, he secured the first great land grant, with which the Illinois Central developed Illinois on its east side, and centrally down from Freeport to Cairo. Not only this, but through the wisdom of someone—it may be Douglas, himself—the great railway was made to pay annual millions into our state treasury, to the great advantage of every Illinoisan for sixty years past, and for untold years to come.

Thus, too briefly, has been hinted at, the wondrous power, of the farsighted man, who in lesser days opposed Lincoln, and in greater days supported the Emancipator—both of them of Illinois.

Up at Chicago, overlooking the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad; and of the Michigan Central as well, bearing union Pacific passengers and freight Eastward and Westward, on a high pillar, stands a statue of Stephen A. Douglas. Let every Illinoisan salute it, in mind and heart, as he or she passes along this pathway of the nation!

Captain J. M. Harris, of Peoria, in charge of all recruiting stations for the United States Army for this district was a Jacksonville visitor late Tuesday evening to inspect the local station at the Post Office Building which is in charge of Sergeant Stirling. Although recruiting for the army in Jacksonville has not been what was hoped for the station yet there is every indication that recruiting will pick up appreciably within the next thirty days, due to general conditions. Capt. Harris found the Jacksonville station in first class shape and everything as it should be.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Hillerby of North Webster avenue yesterday received a card from their son Richard W. Hillerby who is now stationed at Jefferson Barracks, that he likes army life very well and found everything fine at the barracks, according to word from the sergeant yesterday.

Mrs. De Saulles. While the De Saulles case is lacking in the element of mystery which usually adds interest to cases of its kind, it is out of the ordinary as regards the wealth and social prominence of the principals and the youth and beauty of the accused woman.

Dispute Over Child.

The killing of young Jack De Saulles occurred in his country home here on August 3 last. On the night of the tragedy Mrs. De Saulles, accompanied by her maid, drove up to the De Saulles home and inquired for her former husband, from whom she had been divorced. By decree of the court the custody of the infant son of the couple was given on alternate months to the father and mother. It was a dispute over the custody of the four-year-old lad that is supposed to have furnished the motive for the killing. At the time of the tragedy the boy was in the keeping of his father at the Mineola home. The mother, it is said, was anxious to take the boy with her on a visit to her home in Chile.

When De Saulles and his former wife met in the vestibule of the De Saulles home there was but a brief dispute, followed by several shots. De Saulles staggered back into the house and fell, mortally wounded. Mrs. De Saulles made no attempt to escape after the killing, nor did she deny the deed after she had been taken into custody.

The slain man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur De Saulles of South Bethlehem, Pa. During his college career he gained wide prominence as an athlete and in his final year at Yale he played quarterback on the varsity eleven.

In the spring of 1910, De Saulles went to Chile as a representative of a company interested in railroad construction. A year later, in Paris, he married Bianca Errazuris, whom he had met in Chile. At the time of the marriage the bride was but seventeen years of age. She is a niece of a former president of Chile and her family is one of the richest in South America.

Interested in Politics.
For several years after their marriage the couple lived happily together and a splendid future was predicted for young De Saulles by his friends. Upon his return to New York he took an interest in politics. He headed an organization during the campaign in 1912 for the election of President Wilson and another for the election of Mayor Mitchell. As a reward for his work in 1912 President Wilson appointed Mr. De Saulles minister to Uruguay, but he declined the honor and engaged in the real estate business in New York.

About this time rumors became current among the friends of the couple that serious differences had arisen between Mr. and Mrs. De Saulles. Finally came the separation and divorce, the young wife accusing her husband of being intimate with other women. She also charged that he had squandered the greater part of her personal fortune in life along the "Gay White Way."

Since the night of the tragedy Mrs. De Saulles has been confined in the Mineola jail. Here she has been permitted to receive periodical visits from the four year old boy who is supposed to have been the innocent cause of the tragedy, and who since the fatal night has been in the keeping of his father's family.

Immediately that news of the tragedy reached Chile the family of the accused woman began preparations for her defense. As fast as steamship and railroad train could bring them, the mother, brother and several other relatives of Mrs. De Saulles speeded from the far Southern American republic to New York to assist her in her trouble. When the beautiful young woman is placed on trial for her life she will be defended by the ablest counsel that the vast wealth of her family has been able to procure. No stone will be left unturned in the efforts to secure her freedom.

MANY NEW WAR TAXES EFFECTIVE TODAY

Increase in First Class Mail Rates Will Probably Be Most Generally Felt By the People—Special Stamp Taxes Effective Dec. 1.

Washington, Oct. 31.—This is the last day of grace from many new war taxes.

With the exception of increased letter rates and tobacco taxes which go into effect Friday, the special stamp taxes on documents, legal instruments and parcel post packages begin to apply at midnight tonight. They include:

One cent on each time for amusement admissions.
Three per cent on payments for freight transportation.
Eight per cent on passenger fares.
Ten per cent on payments for Pullman and similar accommodations.

Five per cent on oil pipe line transportation.
One cent for each 20 cents or fraction paid for express packages.
Five cents on each telegraph, telephone or radio message costing fifteen cents or more.

Various taxes on cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and products.

Ten per cent on club dues.
Eight cents on each $100 of new life insurance and one cent on each dollar of fire, marine casualty and other insurance policies.

Altho the tobacco taxes, do not become operative until Friday many dealers have already advanced retail prices in anticipation of the tax levies. Other taxes of the new law, including those on hard and soft drinks, incomes and war-excess profits, have been in effect since the law was approved October 3, but in indirect form.

On December 1, the new stamp taxes, including those on parcel post packages, will be payable, putting the entire law into complete operation, except for increased rates on second class mail, postponed until July 1 next.

Increases in first class mail rates probably will be most generally felt by the people. The law provides that the postage on letters, except "drop" or local letters, shall be 3 cents; and that on post-cards, including private mailing cards shall be one cent more than heretofore. This increase includes so-called picture post cards. The advances were made effective thirty days after passage of the law, and are construed by the Post Office Department to begin with letters and post-cards postmarked Nov. 2.

The increases also have been extended by Departmental order to first class mail to many foreign countries, which, under postal conventions, have enjoyed the domestic rates. The new 3-cent letter rate, therefore, will apply to letters to Canada, Mexico, Panama, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, the Bahamas, Barbadoes, British Guiana, British Honduras, Santo Domingo, Dutch West Indies, Leeward Islands, Newfoundland and New Zealand. The post-card increase will extend to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama, the only countries which have enjoyed the domestic post-card rate.

For consumers' convenience, books of postage stamps containing 3-cent stamps are in readiness for sale and the Department has printed thousands of 2-cent post-cards. First class mail postmarked tomorrow or at any time prior to 12:01 a. m. Nov. 2 regardless of time taken for delivery, will be transmitted at the old rates but that postmarked thereafter must pay the increased toll.

Amusement admission taxes become effective tomorrow at places charging more than 10 cents. They are 1 cent for each ten cents or fraction paid for such admission, payable by the person admitted but collected by the government from the amusement proprietor, required to make sworn returns to the treasury.

A flat tax of 1 cent for each child under 12 admitted when children are charged also is provided. Passes also are taxed, except those of bona fide employees, municipal officers and children under 12, at the regular rate, which also is extended to cabarets and other entertainments in which the admission is included in the price paid for refreshment, merchandise or service. Persons leasing theatre boxes must pay ten per cent on their rental.

The new rates on cigars range from 25 cents to $7 per thousand and on cigarettes from 80 cents to $1.20 per thousand. Five cents a pound is the new tax on tobacco, snuff and other manufactured tobacco, while the cigarette papers are taxed from 1/2 cent to 1 cent per hundred. As the taxes are now reaching the ultimate consumer, the raises mean about 1 cent more on five cent tobacco packages, from 2 to 5 cents on cigarette packages and from 1 to 10 cents on cigars.

The taxes on freight and passenger transportation are also extended to motor vehicle competitors of steam and electric railways and water lines. The passenger transportation tax is not applicable to fares costing 35 cents or less or commutation or season tickets for trips less than thirty miles. Payments for services rendered the federal and state governments are exempt from taxation.

The ten per cent tax on Pullman accommodations is applicable to payments for seats, berths, and state-rooms in parlor and sleeping cars or on vessels.

The 5-cent tax on telegraph, telephone or radio messages costing 15 cents or more applies only to those originating in the United States.

Clubs whose dues are less than $12 a year and fees to lodges are exempt from the 10 per cent tax on club dues.

The new insurance taxes are imposed on new policies issued, with re-insurance policies exempted. Industrial or weekly-payment policies are taxed forty per cent, on the first premium on policies for $500 or less.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take
Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

A Stubborn Cough
Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

The prompt and positive action of this simple, inexpensive home-made remedy in quickly healing the inflamed or swollen membranes of the throat, chest or bronchial tubes and breaking up tight coughs, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for whooping cough, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth), into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. You then have a full pint—a family supply—of a much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is known the world over for its promptness, ease and certainty in overcoming stubborn coughs and chest colds.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

AMBULANCE DRILL FOR MORGAN COUNTY BOYS

Ambulance Wagons Arrive at Camp Taylor—Work of Drilling Will Commence This Week—Names of Morgan County Boys Transferred From Sanitary Train to Base Hospital—Other News of Importance.

(By Staff Correspondent.)

Camp Taylor, Ky., Nov. 31—Ambulance wagons for the ambulance companies of the 309th Sanitary Train were unloaded in the freight yards of the camp today and will be taken to the quarters of the Sanitary Train this week. This means that the Morgan county boys and their comrades will begin next week handling ambulances and drilling with their mule teams and litters.

Each company has four mule ambulances. There are four litters to each ambulance, each ambulance having a capacity for carrying four patients.

There are now 21 horses and 19 mules in the stables of the Sanitary Train. Practically all of the animals have been trained to work to the ambulances. The mules are used to haul the transport wagons to the train.

The Division Headquarters today gave out a list of the men who have been transferred from the Sanitary Train to the Base Hospital. The names of many Morgan county men are in the list. The men with the companies they were taken from are:

Field Hospital No. 333—Creson, Ben G.; Lynch, Lester H.; Gould, Leo A.; Patterson, Joseph H.; Graustetter, Joseph H.

Ambulance Co. No. 336—Alderson, Taylor; Fester, Fred L.; Howser, Howard H.; Menezes, Frank C.; Smith, Virden J.; Neese, Davis M.; Roth, Joseph; Kulp, Sidney W.; Boyd, Parmer H.; Baptist, Homer; Gilliam, Harold L.; Hull, George E.; Newby, Emory E.; Herriford, John; Boothby, Charles M.; Murphy, Ranie; Carter, William F.; Holmes, Elmer Roy; Fester, Charles H.; Hornbeck, Bennie M.; Johnson, Fred T.; Ridder, William S.; Blackwell, Marshall L.; Trev, Frank; Willoughby, George E.; Behringer, Charles; Schneider, Henry F.

Ambulance Co. No. 336—Christer, Harold J.; Millington, Arthur J.; Norton, Earl C.; Gibson, Lyal B.; Rand, Clifton D.; Smith, George M.; Hager, Walter; McGovern, Michael F.

Private Irving Fulton of the 309th Sanitary Train has been transferred to the Headquarters Company of the 336 Infantry, a regiment of Kentucky men.

Walter Taylor and R. W. Simpson have been transferred to the 14th Battalion of the 159th Depot Brigade.

The Engineering Corps is being filled from other units who have

Heal Skin Diseases

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, blotches, ringworm, rashes and similar skin troubles. A little zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today and save all further distress. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

special training in some line. The Sanitary Train has given some of its experts to this corps. Those recently transferred are William B. Forbes, James Johnson, Avery L. Wilson, Frederick W. Shoup, Wilbur J. Robertson, Fred L. Mason.

Private John P. Johnson of the Sanitary Train has been sent to the Quartermasters Department for duty.

A number of men of Ambulance Company No. 334 have been transferred to the 309th Ammunition Train where they will be trained for the duties in connection with transporting and distributing ammunition. They are Claud Flatt, Mark H. Fraley, Homer E. Harris, George Hedgerson, Joseph Hoelker, Frank Jennings, Elmer H. Mason, William F. Middendorf, John Miller, Jesse O'Donnell.

Absent Without Leave.

Those soldiers of the National Army in training here, who have been driven by the pangs of homesickness to go home without permission or who have overstayed the time granted them for permitted visits, have found it to be an expensive proposition.

To the surprise of most of them, they have found that the cost of defraying the expense of bringing them back and paying the transportation of the man bringing them back as well as paying the reward of the person apprehending them is not paid by Uncle Sam but only advanced. Such expenses are finally charged against them and are deducted from their pay.

As a matter of fact, the number of men making this painful discovery has been small, for the number of cases of absence over leave, absences without leave and of desertion among the men at Camp Zachary Taylor have been very much below the percentage of such cases in the regular military establishments in time of peace.

Most of the cases of absence without leave and absences over leave never officially become cases of desertion for a man is not ticketed a deserter until he has been absent from his post of duty with permission for ten days.

The offender in such cases is, of course, expected to defray himself the cost of securing his return.

School for Illiterates.

As evidence that efforts toward obliterating illiteracy from the 84th division National Army, composed of men selected from Indiana, Kentucky, and a part of Illinois who in training here, eighteen former illiterates in one company marched proudly into the office of their captain, before whom each wrote his signature on an application for Liberty Loan bonds.

All of the eighteen had to make their mark on papers to which a signature was required when they appeared before the exemption boards which sent them here as members of the National Army. The officers in command of the various units have shown a keen interest in wiping out illiteracy from the division and this performance was one of the results. Some regimental commanders have made the attendance at night school of illiterates compulsory and all of them have encouraged such of their men as could not read and write to learn as quickly as possible in order that they might write to those left at home.

Snappy styles of OVERCOATS for snappy weather, for snappy fellows, are shown by FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store.

Columbia
Grafonola
and Columbia Records

It may be a year before you buy a phonograph — but we want you to feel welcome at the Columbia dealer's now

A young man in a southern city used to go into the Columbia store once a month and spend an afternoon looking over and listening to the new records.

He kept it up for over a year.

If you think the dealer wasn't glad to see him every time he came in, you have the wrong idea of the Columbia dealer's attitude toward the public.

One day he came in with a very happy looking young woman and bought a Columbia Grafonola and a cabinet full of records.

We know perfectly well that careful buyers do not want to buy a phonograph on the spur of the moment.

You can feel free to walk into a Columbia Grafonola salesroom, call for the records you want to hear, and have them played or play them yourself. You can, if you wish, have the instrument sent to your home for trial. This does not obligate you in any way to buy it.

We know that you want a phonograph. We know that sooner or later you will buy one. We know that the better you know the Columbia Grafonola the more likely you are to buy one.

So go to the Columbia dealer's. Take your better-half with you. Listen to the different-priced Grafonolas. Decide for yourself which one you think is nearest ideal for your own use, and, when you are good and ready, buy it.

Columbia Grafonolas are made in a large number of models, with the widest range of prices in the phonograph field.

FAITH IN CHRIST ONLY REMEDY FOR SIN

Evangelist Hanley Tells Auditors That Fine Church Architecture and Services Will Not Save—Service Marked By Deep Spiritual Feeling—Announcements for Today.

Hanley-Fisher Revival Services Today.

9:30 Neighborhood prayer meetings.
10:00 Store meeting Brady Bros. Hardware store. Dr. will speak.
7:30 Service at Grace church. Sermon by Dr. Hanley on "The Lighted Way." Delegation from Illinois Woman's College will attend.

The Union Revival Meeting at Grace church last night was characterized by quiet power and deep spiritual feeling. While the attendance was smaller than usual it was large considering the Halloween festivities which were on throughout the city.

Dr. Hanley was in a reminiscent mood. He stated that seventeen years ago today he was united in marriage to Mrs. Hanley. In order to satisfy the curiosity of his Jacksonville friends he said that he was married at the age of 24. He left them to figure out his age.

In the announcement the evangelist emphasized the store meeting for this morning and the service tonight which a large delegation from the Woman's college will attend in a body. On Friday night he will speak on "Why I Believe The Bible". The Sunday morning service will be one of the sweetest and most happy services of the entire series. On Sunday afternoon he will speak to the men and boys on "Hell's Hinges".

The song service preceding the sermon was exceedingly interesting. A male quartet composed of Messrs. Lents, Hearn, Voyles and Fisher sang with fine effect "The Lord is My Shepherd". Miss Myra Kirkpatrick favored the congregation with a beautiful solo entitled "To Thee I Fly". Mr. Fisher had the two pianists play the chorus of "He Loves Me" and told them to put in all the frills and flourishes they saw fit. They rose to the occasion and were loudly applauded.

Various changes were woven together and many great hymns were sung. Then Mr. Fisher asked for any who desired prayer for any particular friend or relative to signify it. Rev. R. B. Wilson offered the prayer for these.

In the course of the services as it deepened in interest, Rev. W. W. Theobald, Rev. W. E. Spoons and Rev. F. B. Madden were called on for prayer.

The sermon was upon the words of Jesus in the Valley after the Transfiguration. Moment concerning the young boy possessed of an evil spirit—"Bring Him to Me". Mr. Hanley spoke of the various remedies for sin and how far short they come of accomplishing what they are intended to do.

Science fails. Education is not sufficient. Social Reformation cannot redeem the world. We rely upon everything but Jesus. We depend on fine church architecture, on preachers and sermons and organization. We need to rely in God. In the pulpit we should exalt Christ. He related the story from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" about the young Scotch divine who burned up his scholarly discourse on Evolution and preached a simple message which unveiled the Savior to his hearers. He brought his congregation to Jesus. That is what he was meant to do.

Jesus can do the business. Dr. Hanley told of the conversation of a big drunkard of his church. This man was led to Christ and he became a sober, wholesome citizen. Christ has never failed any one. The question for you and me to answer is "Have You Yourself Come to Christ?" He told of a service at which Dr. Hugh Black asked this question of persons individually. Dr. Black made a profound impression as he faced one after another with this searching inquiry.

He closed by telling how he gave up the law business to become a minister of the Gospel on a salary of $500 a year and house. But it was the best bargain that he ever made.

When he asked all who would consecrate themselves to the Master and endeavor to live a better Christian life than ever before to rise, practically the entire audience rose. With uplifted hands they were asked to sing in closing as a personal consecration "I've traveled All The Way With Him."

FRANKLIN MOTORIST HIT BY STREET CAR

Milton Seymour Has Narrow Escape From Injury in Jacksonville Wednesday.

A near tragedy was enacted at the corner of Church street and West State street Wednesday noon when the street car driven by Motorman Albert Moss struck the Ford car driven by Milton Seymour of Franklin.

Mr. Seymour was making the turn off North Church street, headed south, on to State street, as he wished to go up to the square. He had the side curtains on his roadster and failed to perceive the street car coming from the west, also headed for the square. A lady was crossing West State street in front of Mr. Seymour just as he turned and his attention was directed to the left on this account and he veered his car a little farther to the south than is usual on account of the pedestrian.

The motorman, it is said, slowed down his car as quickly as possible and sounded his bell. However, with the curtains on the roadster, Mr. Seymour failed to hear the oncoming street car. The Ford was struck a sidling blow. The front right wheel being completely smashed, the front right fender badly bent, and the casing of the front wheel was cut into several pieces. Mr. Seymour was not injured in any way and considers himself very fortunate to have escaped as luckily as he did. The car was taken to the C. N. Priest garage for repairs. Mr. Seymour returned to his home in Franklin last night.

MORE SUITS FILED FOR NOVEMBER COURT TERM

Transfer of Ward Bindery Stock Brings Action for Relief—Messrs. Hopper & Hofmann Allege Records of Business Done Were Incorporated—Other Suits.

As this is the final week for filing suits for hearing at the November term of court, Circuit Clerk Boston and his deputies are especially busy. The most important suit filed Wednesday was that wherein Fletcher Hopper and Harry Hofmann have brought an action against John N. Ward. In this bill for relief, which was filed by J. O. Priest as attorney for the complainants it is alleged that Messrs. Hopper & Hofmann purchased from Mr. Ward his book bindery plant and business for the sum of $40,000 and that fraud was practiced in the statements made about the business and in the manner in which he kept his books.

At the time of the transfer of the business $10,000 in cash was paid to Mr. Ward, a note for $10,000 payable in one year and a note for $20,000 payable in two years were also given. It is alleged that the bindery had in reality been conducted at a loss instead of at a large profit as the complainants believed when they purchased the property. The bill now filed asks that Mr. Ward be restrained from disposing of the notes he has in his possession, that these notes be returned to the complainants together with the $10,000 cash paid, and damages in the sum of $5,000.

Other Suits Oliver Runkel, by his attorneys, Owen P. Thompson and Paul Thompson, brought suit in assumpsit against J. E. Phillips alleging indebtedness in the sum of $400.

Thomas Walsh has brought by his attorney J. M. Butler, an action against the Central Illinois Public Service Co., asking damages in the sum of $2,000. Only the praecipe has been filed.

BRANDS STORY FALSE.

While in Jacksonville Wednesday Alfred S. Adams, district food administrator, took special occasion to contradict a food story which has been widely circulated. This story is to the effect that representatives of the food administration plan to investigate the cellars and larders of private consumers to see how large are the quantities of foods in hiding. Further rumor has said that where unnecessary stores are found they will be confiscated by the administration. Mr. Adams declared that there was absolutely no truth to this story, for all along the food administration has encouraged the people to can and store foods and in various ways to increase the supply of products prepared for future food uses. The story has no doubt come from German sources, with the purpose of alarming some people and spreading dissatisfaction among others.

DR. G. W. MILLER HOST TO KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

One Hundred Partook of His Hospitality at Chicken Supper—Host Presented With $20. Gold Piece by Guests, Presentation Speech by Hon. John J. Reeve—Brief Musical Program Given.

Among the elderly residents of Morgan county none have more friends than good Dr. George W. Miller of Woodson. For nearly half a century he has ushered into the world many persons, has watched over their physical welfare, nursed them when sick, preached to them when well, united them in marriage, and served at the funerals of many and now in the evening of his days he has the great pleasure of seeing the fruits of his labors and enjoying the friendship of a host of people.

Among his dearest interests, next to the church, is Masonry, and in that order he is a veteran and annually he invites a goodly number mostly of Sir Knights, to enjoy a feast at his hospitable home and feast it is most truly. Wednesday night was the date chosen for the event this year and well nigh a hundred guests enjoyed his generous hospitality. Some went down by train and others by automobile, the latter enjoying the kindness of Sir Knights, W. W. Gillham and a seat in that gentleman's fine Cadillac car which made quick time.

The best of good cheer prevailed and all went merrily as a marriage bell. The supper was simply superb with nothing to be desired and the service was absolutely perfect. The ladies in charge of the culinary department were Mesdames W. A. Crawley, C. C. Self, J. R. Henry, Nettie Megginson, Luella Henry, L. R. Watson, Edward Gallagher, O. A. Ward and T. M. Whitlock and their work was perfect, the feast being pronounced unexcelled.

With both the cooks and the waitresses Miss Marie Megginson, the doctor's niece and housekeeper, was useful and had a prominent part. The young ladies who served were Misses Bertha Dunlap, Marguerite Steinmetz, Margaret Strandberg, Charabel Megginson, Maude Brown, Marie Megginson, Ellen Harney and Hazel Brown. Messrs. Oswald Ward, L. R. Watson and Wendell Dugger, the latter of Scottville, had charge of the ice cream department and did their work well also.

It took three relays around large tables to serve the guests but such a feast was well worth waiting for and everyone had even more than enough.

After all the guests had eaten order was requested and J. J. Reeve presented Dr. Miller with a $20 gold piece as a token of love and esteem from his fraternal Sir Knights. In fitting and eloquent terms the gentleman told of the esteem in which the host was held by the guests and of their appreciation of the fine entertainment tendered them and the affection they felt for one who had so won their hearts by his noble and generous life.

Dr. Miller was much overcome and had hard work to control his feelings. He said in brief: "There are times when words but poorly express the sentiments of the heart. I feel unable to express the feeling that well in my soul tonight. You are present tonight because of the sacred ties that bind us together. You have a warm place in my heart and I asked you here tonight that I might look you in the face and tell you how much I esteem you. I receive this token in the same spirit in which it is given and I trust our love for each other may never be less. I welcome you all and am glad to see you and feel your love for me and from the depth of my heart I pray that the best blessings of a kind Providence may be yours and that together we may tread the streets of gold in the glad hereafter."

Miss Charabel Megginson favored the guests with some very fine piano solos and also played the accompaniments for a number of songs. W. W. Gillham, Prof. T. P. Carter, W. S. Badger, John L. Johnson and others sang a number of songs and some were written especially for the occasion and the young lady waitresses also favored the gathering with a vocal number.

The entire evening was most happily spent and the guests departed wishing their generous host many years yet of usefulness and added a desire that each year the event of the evening might be repeated.

EVERYBODY GOING To the chicken supper, Northminster church tonight. Everything good to eat. Will begin serving at 5 o'clock. Come early and get the best.

Beware the Welder.

In speaking of the welding machine which will now be in use on the Jacksonville street railway for several weeks to come, Supt. Gray has issued a warning. This electrical machine is of such a kind that it will naturally attract the attention of observers. The men who operate the machine wear heavy goggles of a special type to protect their eyes. People are warned that they should not watch the machine in operation more than a few seconds for the effect is very detrimental to the eyes. The person who intently watches the welder will not immediately notice any injury to the eyes but fifteen or twenty minutes later the injury will be very noticeable. The attention of school children should be especially called to this matter.

RUSSELL WEMPLE WITH U. S. SANITARY CORPS

Waverly Young Man With Others Technically Trained Working in Gas Masks.

Russell Wemple, son of Edward Wemple of Waverly, is one of the numerous Morgan county young men who is now doing active and important service in the army. Mr. Wemple left his Waverly home last June and enlisted in the army service in the east and as commissioned a first lieutenant in the sanitary corps. He is now located in the Goodrich works at Akron, Ohio. A division of his corps is located there perfecting gas masks for the protection of U. S. troops. Nearly all members of this corps are men with technical training, many of them being graduates of the Massachusetts institute of technology. Mr. Wemple is one of the graduates of that institution as he went to Massachusetts after completing his course at Washington university. He specialized in chemistry and thus has the training which qualifies him for his present work.

The government has placed an order for a million and a half of the gas masks and necessarily a vast sum of money will thus be expended for this special class of equipment. The gas mask is of rubber worked on fabric. There are two goggles thru which the soldier can see, a clip to fasten the nose and a nozzle to breathe thru. This nozzle leads to a can carried in the knapsack over the neck in which are certain chemicals that strain out poisonous gases. The gases are released by the enemy for the purpose of producing tears or for asphyxiation. Some of the gases are shot from cylinders and others are disseminated by the use of shells. The gases which produce tears have the effect of so blinding soldiers that they are rendered practically incapable of effective action. It is said that the gas masks now in the making are light in weight and easily carried, so that they add very little to the weight of the equipment which the soldier must carry.

PREACHED DEDICATION SERMON AT ASHMORE

Rev. Walter E. Spoons Had Large Part in Dedication Ceremonies — Raised $14,000 Which Cleared the Indebtedness On the New Structure.

Rev. Walter E. Spoons has returned from Ashmore where he spent several days last week taking part in the dedicatory services of the new Presbyterian church in that city. Dr. Spoons delivered sermons on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening and two sermons on Sunday.

A debt of $14,000 needed to be raised by the congregation and Dr. Spoons succeeded in doing this while he was there. The exercises on Sunday were most impressive and were largely attended.

The new building is a handsome piece of architecture. It was made possible by the uniting of the Presbyterian church and the Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1911. The first named was organized in 1841 and the second in 1842. Rev. Charles W. Estes is pastor of the new church.

FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

IN CAMPS RESTRICTED Washington, Oct. 31.—Secretary Baker announced today a policy to govern activities of fraternal organizations in army training camps.

Camp commanders will be directed to permit the construction of buildings within the camp sites by any fraternal organization, individually or group of organizations acting together. Facilities of the camp for social and fellowship meetings will be extended and accredited representatives will be authorized from the various societies to visit the camps and arrange for entertainments for the men at the buildings thus erected or in near-by communities.

It was agreed, however, that no initiations or secret meetings of any kind are to be carried on within the camps; that existing well recognized societies only should be accorded the recognition and that propaganda work among the soldiers in behalf of any new society be forbidden.

F. E. DRURY WILL HEAD SPECIAL COMMITTEE HERE

Organization Will be Effected Under State Council of Defense for Development of Agricultural and Livestock Interests.

Under the direction of the food, fuel and conservation committee of the state council of defense, an organization will be effected in each county with the special purpose of benefiting agricultural and livestock interests in the county. While the work of such committees will be along the line of the food administration organization, it will not conflict with it.

In this county Frank E. Drury has been asked to serve as chairman of a food fuel and conservation committee. At an early date Mr. Drury will appoint a general committee and then thru this committee a working force will be secured in each township of the county. Various state officers will be included in the county organization in an advisory way. The local committee is to outline much of its own work and is to deal with conditions as they are and make reports to the state committee, which may be of benefit to the state or nation.

As already indicated, the state food, fuel and conservation committee is in close co-operative relationship with the federal food administration and there will be no conflict of duties. Particular importance will attach to the work of the food, fuel and conservation committee in this state because Illinois is the center of the richest agricultural region in the world. This great food producing state must to some extent lead the way in the important matter of increasing food production. Further facts about the committee work will be published at a later time.

BYRON HOCKING STRUCK BY BURLINGTON TRAIN

Jacksonville Man Meets with An Accident South of Routt Street Subway—Suffers Fractured Skull and Hip—Probably Will Recover.

Byron Hocking of 322 South Mauvaisterre street is a patient at Passavant hospital suffering from a fractured skull and a fractured left hip as the result of being struck by a Burlington freight train about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

There is not much of a definite nature as to the manner in which the accident occurred. According to the story as gleaned by Patrolman Hogan Wednesday night Hocking had been to Virden. He came back on a freight train and alighted from the train south of the Routt street subway. In some manner he fell against the train and was knocked down and, so reports say, fell under the cars and was saved from death by Patrick Tobin who pulled him out before he was struck by the wheels.

Soon after the accident the police were notified and Patrolman Hogan went to the scene on a motorcycle and then summoned an ambulance and had Hocking removed to Passavant hospital. He was attended by Dr. Carl E. Black. Examination showed a fracture of the skull and a fractured hip. Dr. Black said last night that the injuries were severe that Hocking probably will recover.

The injured man is 29 years of age and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hocking of 322 South Mauvaisterre street. He is a paperhanger by occupation.

COUNTY ADVISOR WORK

PROGRESSING. Morgan county farmers are winning in their efforts to meet the federal requirements for government aid for a county advisor and the success of the project is assured.

Next Saturday is set as the date for the completion of the membership campaign for the Morgan County Farmers Club. One hundred more members must be secured this week. Sidney B. Smith, representing the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the University of Illinois in assisting the Morgan County Farmers club in working up its membership, has been hampered by bad weather and roads. He had hoped to call on many of the farmers this week but will be unable to reach all whom he had hoped to see.

To make the project succeed help from the farmers who have signed up for memberships is necessary. Every man who is interested in making the county advisor a reality in Morgan county should make an especial effort to see one or two neighbors in the next two days and secure their names for membership. YEARS ago a constructive policy was begun to make this store the leading Clothing House in Central Illinois.

—This task necessarily entailed a buying and merchandising organization above the ordinary.

—How successful we have been is best proven by our constant increasing volume of business and the admission of satisfaction of our many customers with the splendid assortments and values to be found here.

—Such a store is worth coming to—more so than ever this season.
